Bliss' Compound Cod Liver Oil Candy.

The prevailing diseases of our cold Northern clime, are pulmonary attacks, which alike affect the strong and the weak, and against which no human foresight can provide. It is all important then in this section of the country, that some simple and speedy remedy should be at hand, and accessible to all from its cheapness. This remedy we are happy to say, exists in Bliss's Compound Cod Liver Oil Candy, proved by thousands of cases. But we feel it to be a duty to caution the public against a counterfeit, and purchase only Bliss's Candy, the original and genuine article; observe his signature on each package For sale by S JOHNSON, Jr., 151 East Water street.

Latest and best Collection of Church Music.

NOW READY,

THE GOLDEN LYRE:

A NEW Collection of Church Music adapted to the various metres now in use, together with a great variety of new Anthems, Sentences and Chants, for choirs, singing classes, musical associations, and social sacred music circles—by V C TAYLOR, author of "Taylor's Sacred Music Minstrel," "Choral Anthems," &c &c

"We have explored its contents enough to dare to speak well of it Mr Taylor is, himself, the author of a good part of the work, and he shows musical feeling, taste and invention, which make a no ps esumption in him to appear as a composer * * * Mr Taylor's pieces are commended by their melody woven into all the four parts, by their expressiveness, which always varies with the subject, and by their uniformly artistic style * * * And last, but not least, the work is more beautifully and clearly printed than any work which we remember of the kind"—N Y Tribune

"We believe the book to be greatly superior to any that has preceded it, and we think it may claim to be better adapted to, and more suitable for, the use of choirs"—Saroni's Musical Times

"We have examined this new collection of church music, and would add our favorable opinion of its merits, to the many encomiums it has elicited"—N Y Evangelist HAWLEY, FULLER & CO,

A Great Bargain,

A Poor Man's Epitaph.

BY J. T. FIELDS.

He was not what the world counts rich,
Houses and lands had none in store,
But blessed with strength for honest toil,
He neither asked nor strove for more.

His neighbors moved in higher ranks,
And most could far above him shine,—
He lived with Health, and brave Content,
And water drank instead of wine.

"Enough for me," he said, "if here
My table's spread when hunger calls,
And leaves me something for a friend
Whose lot than mine still lower falls:

"And if the rainy days should come,
And I've no silver hoarded by,
How can I want, if Him I trust
Who feeds the ravens when they cry?

"Around my board a place I'll keep
For pallid lips that pine in woe,
And better gifts than I impart
Shall unseen angel hands bestow."

See where he sleeps who served mankind,—
Who wept and watched with weeping eyes!
Walk round his grave with reverent steps,
For there a more than hero lies.

Exploit of a Roman Bandit.

It has been thought that the days of the Italian Banditti were over, but here is an account of a recent exploit, of not less savage daring and thrilling adventure than those of "long time ago."

A small Italian town has recently been the scene of an exploit almost incredable. It appears that on the 25th of January the theatrical corps of Forlini-Popoli was playing the "Death of Cæsar." Forlini-Popoli is a small town of about 4000 inhabitants, inclosed by a high wall, entered by two gates, and scarcely three miles from the town of Forli, of which it is a kind of suburb.—By eight in the evening, the hour when the theatres open in Italy, all movement has disappeared from the streets, the windows are closed, and the inhabitants have retired to their homes, the coffee-houses, or theatres. This absence of activity in the streets, which every one remarks at Rome, is still more complete in small towns. It may then be understood how, at Forlini-Popoli, and particularly on an evening when the theatre is open, the streets should be so deserted as to make possible the occurrence now to be related.

The first act of the piece had terminated, and the curtain had just fallen, when suddenly it rose and disclosed—instead of actors, who had disappeared—ten brigands of the band del passatore, who, armed with muskets and carbines, leveled them so as to command the entire range of the pit and boxes. At the same moment, another party, consisting of 30 brigands, made their appearance on the floor of the house, the issues of which were guarded, and armed with sabres and pistols, menaced the spectators. A moment of stupor, during which no one dared move, elapsed, when the chief of the brigands advanced to the foot lights, and exhibiting the keys of the two gates of the town, said, "Gentlemen, you see by these that you are entirely in our power; any resistance on your part would lead to disasters which I should be the first to deplore, but which it depends on you to avert. Listen, then, to what I have to say. I am about to call out the names of several among you: as I pronounce a name, let him who bears it step forth from his box and step to his house, in company with one or two of my friends, who will assist him to bring hither all his hoards, and that without defrauding us of a porpetto." This said, the orator displayed a paper, and commenced reading the fatal roll. Submission was inevitable. A dozen carabineers formed the sole police of Forlini-Popoli. Six of these were in the theatre, and had been gagged by the brigands. The six others, surprised in their guard-house, had ventured a vain resistance. The burgomaster was the first victim.

Some time was of course required for this operation, which did not terminate before a quarter to twelve. It was probably to shorten the agony of the pit and boxes that two brigands went from spectator to spectator, collecting hatfuls of watches, purses, chains, rings, and even umbrellas. When the harvest was gathered, and the booty had been heaped up on the stage, the brigands allowed the curtain to fall, and quitely withdrew, carrying all with them. The money thus obtained amounted to 7000 Roman piasters, or about 40,000 francs, and the bijoux, objects of art, &c., at double that sum.

The next day an Austrian detachment set out in pursuit of the band, which probably had dispersed by that time in the mountains, or passed the Tuscan frontier. Their number is supposed to have been about three or four hundred. It is probable that they were in league with some of the inhabitants. However this may be, private houses and public treasuries all have been plundered with the exception of the Monte de Piete, the fastening of which resisted all the attempts made to break it.

TURNING THE TABLES.—A New Trick.—The Legislature of Illinois has passed a law to prohibit the retailing of intoxicating drinks within that state. At Springfield some genius has hit upon a novel way of supplying his customers with the "critter," in defiance of the law. Thus:

"The premises consist of a room divided by a partition, into two apartments. Upon entering the first apartment, a square opening, and it is the only one, is discovered, several feet from the ground, in the partition wall. Immediately before this opening, in the second apartment, a number of glasses labeled 'rum,' 'gin,' 'wisky,' &c., stand upon a table. Upon a picayune being dropped into one of these glasses, the table begins to turn upon its axis, and by the time it has made a horizontal revolution, the glass is filled with the liquors indicated, and stands in its original position."

The Mayor and Marshal of the city have examined said "premises" closely, without being able to find any "man, woman or child" acting as salesman, or of discovering the means by which the "table" is turned. And up to the last accounts the thing was still in operation.

DAILY FREE DEMOCRAT.

Daily, Tri-Weekly, and Weekly.

S. M. BOOTH, : : : : : : : : EDITOR.

MILWAUKEE:

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, MAR. 19.

☞ A FIRST RATE TYPE-SETTER will find employment at this office.

Two or Three Things.

The present Legislature will hereafter stand as a beacon of the folly of trusting to party to carry out great and good objects. The time has been when party—and especially the democratic party—was employed to promote just principles, but that day has evidently passed. The course of the Legislatnre on the Slave question is unworthy of any Legislative body, and shows that the party, in this State, is ready to sacrifice all their old professed principles, for fellowship with the South, and with its Presidential candidates.

For this it postponed the Resolutions on the River and Harbor Bill, lest the party here might be placed in an attitude of opposition to Lewis Cass.

For this, too, it indefinitely postponed all action on the Fugitive Slave Law Memorial. This memorial passed the Senate, and a certain evening was appointed for its consideration. It was called up, Mr. LaDue moved to lay it on the table with his own wonderful Report, which failed, and Judge Spooner made an able speech on the whole subject. Mr. Biddlecomb replied in true Southern style, Mr. Jenkins spoke briefly in answer, and the subject was postponed to a particular evening. But, afraid to meet Judge Spooner's reply, the party resorted to the contemptible movement of adjourning over that evening, to get rid of the whole subject.

After being taunted with their cowardice, they again agreed to make it the special order for another evening, but when the time approached they again rallied, and by yeas and noes, postponed it. We shall publish the record. So the party which, two years ago, took strong Free Soil ground, now refuse to say a word against the Fugitive Slave Law, and by smothering all opinion on the subject, virtually sustain it. The people watch their servants.

Adjournment of the Legislature.

Both branches of the Legislature adjourned Monday morning, having finished up the work before it. From the account given in the Madison Democrat, we gather that the apportionment bill passed, allowing 22 Senators and 72 Assemblymen. The appropriation bills generally passed. Thanks were passed to the presiding officers of both houses, and after the usual congratulations, the Legislature expired, and the Daily Madison Democrat expired with it, in hope of a resurrection and fat pickings at the next session of the Legislature.—Peace to its ashes.

LATER. Private advices say that the Governor has vetoed the Apportionment bill.

Minority Report of the Judiciary Committee on the Land Limitation Bill.

We should like to publish this Report at length, but have not room consistently with our other arrangements, to do so. We have conditionally, promised to publish our speech at Gardiner's Hall, on the subject of Land Limitation, and this will be as full a presentation of the subject as we can spare room to give.

The Committee undertake to answer—and we think successfully—the following objections to Land Limitation:

1. It interferes with the primary disposal of the soil, by the United States in Congress assembled, and with regulations Congress may find necessary for securing the title in such soil, to the bona fide purchasers.
2. It destroys the allodial character of the lands of the State.
3. It conflicts with the Ordinance of 1787, in restraining descents.
4. It impairs the obligation of contracts.
5. It takes private property for public uses, without making just compensation therefor.

The report is signed by E. Estabrooks and Chas. E. Jenkins. Mr. Jenkins has labored earnestly and faithfully for the success of this measure, has made two able speeches on the subject, and has deserved well of his constituents and of the friends of Land Reform. The people will remember their public servants in the Legislature who have been true to their cause.

"SIGNS."—The Chicago Journal is making sport of the signs in that city. If it wants "signs" as is signs, we refer it to Theodore A. Foster's "signs of the times."

☞ There is a well-painted sign-board on Clark street, bearing in good Roman letters, the extraordinary intelligence, "Dying done here."—Chicago Journal.

About all the citizens carry the same sign on their faces.

LAND REFORM IN NEW YORK.—At a large Land Reform meeting in New York City, on the 2nd inst, the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That Senator Wm. H. Seward, by his bold stand in favor, and able elucidation of, the principles on which the Public Lands of the United States should hereafter be held and disposed of, merits our warmest sympathy and commands our lasting gratitude."

Notices of Books.

We have thought we could do no greater service to our readers, and to this community, since the subject of Infidelity has been publicly broached, in the recent Land Limitation discussion, than to call attention to an old work, which we must presume, from the slight allusions to it, and mis-quotations from it, by the opponents of Land Limitation, has nearly gone out of print. We have several copies of the work, in our Library, and shall be happy to show any inquiring minds, passages of great excellence and beauty, well worth their study and application.

The work treats mainly of human relations, rights and duties, and has a clear and and faithful historical summary of the human race. It is evidently impartially written, for the follies and vices of mankind are plainly sketched, and the portrait is by no means flattering. It shows—if true—that we are all bad enough; that there is no need of our running around to ask our neighbors if our opponent is not an infidel, and that church membership is a poor substitute for christian character. This book is called the Bible. It used to be thought worthy of reverence, when we were a boy, and was considered the standard of Christian faith and practice, but latterly it seems to be chiefly useful to bolster up the right of the rich to monopolize the soil, and to anathematize Land Reformers with. But being like a two-edged sword, cutting both ways, but with the sharpest edge always toward the greatest sinners, it is said that when legitimately wielded, it cuts the rich a great deal worse than it does the poor. Hence the ministers of rich and fashionable congregations are always obliged to handle it delicately, and with extreme caution. It certainly expresses a great deal of spmpathy for the poor, and were it not for the contrary living interpretations of it, there would be little doubt that its teachings were specially designed for the benefit of the poor and humble in spirit. It is an excellent book, however much it may be disregarded, and one that the poor need not be afraid of.

Ruining the Profession.

In the Assembly, on the 4th inst., while the bill to pay Sholes additional compensation for the Revised Statutes was under discussion, Mr. Ladue, a practical printer, gave the following as what he thought "a large estimate" of the cost of the work:

Estimate number of ems in the volume 2,250,000, at 0,25 per 1000, for 4000 copies, - - -	$ 562 50
Paper per volume 0,20 - -	1000 00
Binding per volume 0,40 - -	1600 00
Press work - - - -	562 50
Estimate total cost	$3725 00

Without saying a word as to the merits of the Sholes claim, we wish to protest againt making printing a by-word and reproach in this State. It is enough that the State itself has adopted the plan of grinding the profession to the lowest notch in giving out its contracts—it is enough that every dough-head who hardly knows how to read printing after it is performed, deems it his duty to stand up in the Legislature and declaim against the prices paid for it—these and a thousand other things are amply enough for the profession to bear, without one of its members bearing false testimony against it. The lowest price at which a proprietor can make an ordinary living at printing such a work as the Revised Statutes, 50 cents per 1000 ems, for setting the types; and yet Mr. Ladue tells the Legislature that his estimate is 25 cents. A jour. printer, competent to work upon such a book, could not be hired to do it less than from 25 to 30 cents. The materials in an establishment employed upon the book did not cost less than $5,000, most of which are very perishable, having to be replaced by new ones every year or two, and yet one of us has the hardihood to say that all this establishment can be thrown into use upon the work for the very pieces, or lower ones, paid to the men who handle the types. In New York city, at this moment, jours are paid 32 cents per 1000.

The competition, the jealousy and recrimination now going on among members of the profession who are struggling for the State printing, is doing damage enough without the help of others. Those who have respect for themselves, should purty thrusts at their business instead of lending a helping hand. The printers of this State bring as much honesty, enterprise, capital and industry into the practice of their profession, as any other class, and deserve an equal remuneration. They will get it, if they do not, by abandoning self respect, lose the respect of others.

The above from the Green Bay Advocate is the truth, and Mr. Ladue has shown himself very ignorant and very dishonest, by his report.

EMIGRATION TO WILLOWRIVER.—We are credibly informed that a company of about thirty-six individuals, including men, women, and children, are preparing to come to our village, from Ohio, on the opening of navigation. One of them has made a purchase near the village for the purpose of starting a dairy farm, and an excellent location it is. Still there is room for more within ten miles of the village. The dairy and stock business is the most profitable investment a man can go into in this region, for there is plenty of good hay that can be cut on the prairies for the milch cows and working cattle in the winter, while the young stock can be wintered on the rushes in the woods of Rush river, 34 miles from here, and come forth in fine condition in the spring.—St. Croix Inquirer.

Finch, Randall, and Faries, each of whom has a fine house on the Watertown Plank Road, a short distance beyond the toll gate. There they are free from the hot, sickly, dusty, diseased air of the city—from the depredations of rowdies, the barking of dogs, noctural caterwauling, and all the noise and disturbance, that "cits" are obliged to suffer, o' days and nights. Such a life, half country and half city, is desirable, and we commend others to try it.

Cleaning Up.—The "powers that be," having a due regard for the health and comfort of their "constituents," have set men to work cleaning up the streets and allies. Hope they'll keep a-doing.

☞ To-morrow evening the Sacred Musical Society give their first Concert, for members, their wives, families, or, if they have not got them, their lady friends and sweethearts. It will be a good one for the "first time."

More Fine Residences.—Judge Miller has commenced excavations on the corner of Wisconsin and Van Buren sts., for the erection of a block of three dwelling houses, to be forty-six feet by seventy-two, four stories high including basement and garret, surmounted by an observatory which commands a view of the lake and city. They will make fine residences.

Spring Fashions.—We noticed in the streets yesterday, several ladies wearing the spring style of shawls—bright, gay red, looking, in all the world, among the sober, gray, mixed colors of those not up with the fashions, like some dear little "red-fire-hang birds" among a flock of pigeons, geese, ducks and [illegible].

☞ Mr. Foster's Lecture on the "Signs of the Times" was delivered last evening to an audience, more select than profitable, a great deal. About one of the most reliable "Signs" we take it, is, that from such a house, the receipts must be mighty small. We beat Chicago however, in our encouragement of itinerant merit, for we believe that the gentleman [illegible] hearers in our sister city, including "dead heads"—here he had ten times that. It was a good Lecture, however, of the sort, and must have taken a great deal of labor in its preparation, as it evidently did in the delivery. We presume the gentleman could not do himself justice before such an audience—we should endeavor to, though, if it wasn't for hurting the feelings of the Lecturer and [illegible]. The lecture was very lengthy, [illegible] to the hearers a great deal more lengthy than it was.

☞ A Petition to the Common Council is being circulated, to have Street Auctions declared a nuisance. We noticed friend Wall's name the first on the list.

Open Sesame.—Spring Street Bridge, for the first time this season, opened this morning to let a vessel through, and staid open some [illegible] a couple of hours before they could get together again. Convenient arrangement.

"The Soldier's Return."—We see some members in the recent Legislature have returned to the city. Among them the members from the 1st, 3d and 2nd Wards, and two Senators.

☞ J. D. Hunt, the Auctioneer, having finished his engagements at Hood & Shannon's, is about to start business on his "own hook." In the mean time, any persons wishing to engage his services, can probably find him at Jacob Walls. Hunt can talk up the goods, if any body can, and is worth a score of police officers, or the entire posse comitatus to keep the peace.

☞ We understand that the spirit knockings have broken out in the pump at the corner, by the old Congregational Church, 4th Ward.

☞ The Mail Boat arrived at about eleven o'clock last night. The delay was occasioned by her having to breast a strong head wind all day. It brought papers from Chicaga.

☞ Day advertises several houses to rent.

New Hampshire Election.—Returns are received from all but 8 towns, which gave, last year a Democratic majority of 488. The following is the result:

Dinsmore, Hunker Dem.,	26,231
Sawyer, Whig,	18,037
Atwood, Ind. Dem.,	11,720

So the House of Representatives will have to elect the Governor, which stands: Whigs, 127; Hunker Dem., 117; Free Soil, 25.

The towns to be heard from will elect Democratic members, so as to leave the balance of power in the hands of the Free Soilers, but whether they will vote for the whig or Democratic candidate, is uncertain.

The Senate consists of 12 members, of which 6 or 7 are Democrats, 2 or 3 Whigs and the balance doubtful.

Archbishop Hughes in Rome.—Archbishop Hughes seems to be quite a lion at Rome. Large numbers of the clergy there flock to hear the doctrines of the mother church, so ably expounded by a subject of a government which they had deemed half barbarious at least. He preaches each Sunday in the Church St. Andrea delle Fratte, to large and mixed congregations. He still predicts the proximate downfall of Protestantism, saying that "ere long it will have disappeared from the world as completely as the heretical sects of the Arians and Manichæans."

It seems he has donned the three-cornered hat, purple stockings, and gold chain of a Monsignore, at which the Americans in in Rome, were highly offended, considering it beneath the dignity of their countrymen to assume any other garb or trappings than that of their own country—a principle on which all the diplomatic representatives of the United States act in defiance of the Court ettiquette of European governments.

Young Lawyers.—A young lawyer being asked if he practised speech making much, replied:

"I am at it every morning. Immediately on leaping out of my bed, I convert my chaminto the court. I stick that old portrait of father's before the glass, and there's the Judge staring me in lhe face. On my right I establish a row of boots—these are the gentlemen of the jury; on my left hand is the cupboard, or while on the chairs before me are seated a lot of my learned friends.

"Well, I concieve the case opened. It's an action for anything—say for breach of promise—and then I begin. If I'm for the plaintiff, of course I pile up the pathetic; if for the defendant I reduce the thing to a mere bagatelle. For the plaintiff, I describe in tones and strains which bring tears into the eyes of the row of boots—I mean the intelligent gentlemen of the jury—how fondly, how passionately she loved the recreant, base and black hearted defendant. If for him I transfer her affection to my pocket, and undertake to show that she never loved him at all. And I am as like to be right in one case as the other, for how can I tell whether she loved him or not.

"In a case of this kind, however, give me the plaintiff. I see a tear starting in every eye. I hear the ladies sobbing all around me; while the intelligent men of the jury are blowing the noses with unexampled violence, lest it should be thought that they could shed a tear. I behold the Judge working his facial muscles, his mouth into all sorts of shapes, as if from the depth of his emotion he would say, 'I'll tell you what it is, I can't stand this much longer.'"

HENRY NIEDECKEN,

A PRACTICAL BOOK-BINDER of long experience, in all its branches, would most respectfully inform the citizens of Milwaukee and the surrounding country, that he is prepared to bind any description of Books, being possessed of the best gilding and finishing tools, and keeping constantly on hand the first quality of binding material. He has found it necessary, by reason of increasing business, (consequent upon his low price and superior quality of work and materials,) to open another for the convenience of his "down town" friends, at the above mentioned place, where he will be happy to see his old customers and as many new ones as will favor him with their patronage.

Bindery, Ruling and Blank Book Establishment,

Blank Books for banks, merchants, county clerks, recorders, auditors, treasurers, school commissioners, magistrates, insurance offices, &c, manufactured in the best manner, which in elegance, durability, and superiority of style and finish, will not be surpassed by any eastern manufacturer. In all his large blank books, he uses the improved patent mode of sewing, which gives strength, with great elasticity, and is incomparably superior to any other method for blank books, and will keep the leaves firm and solid while the book lasts, instead of coming to pieces, as is often the case with all other methods. No additional charge is made for this improvement.

Machine Ruling.—Ruling of every description, for blank books, tax lists, &c, neatly and promptly executed.

Fancy Articles.—He is also prepared to make all kinds of fancy articles, such as ladies' and gentlemen's portfolios, caskets, card, spectacle and segar cases, pocket books, &c, with neatness and despatch.

Ruled Music Paper.—He will also keep on hand a supply of blank paper ruled for manuscript music, which he can sell at so low a price that it will be a great saving of time, labor and money, to buy this all ruled and ready for writing the music

Albums, Magazines, Music Books, &c, will be bound with the greatest care, and in a neat and elegant style, to which the attention of the ladies is most particularly invited.

Bibles, Hymn, Prayer and School Book are constantly kept on hand, as also STATIONERY, of all kinds, such as writing paper, ink, quills, steel pens, sealing wax, slates, writing books, and wafers, and a variety of books too numerous to mention.

GILT PICTURE FRAMES.

He is also in constant receipt, (imported direct from Germany by himself,) of a superior article of gilt frames, of all sizes, which he will sell at prices which cannot fail of suiting purchasers. He will be happy to show his goods and style of work to all who will favor him with a call, as he is confident that he can please every variety of taste. By good work and honest dealing, he expects to gain the patronage of the citizens of Milwaukee and the surrounding country oct12 d24

THE BRITISH PERIODICALS, AND THE FARMER'S GUIDE.

LEONARD SCOTT & CO.
No. 54 Gold street, New-York,

Continue to publish the four leading British Quarterly Reviews and Blackwood's Magazine; in addition to which they have recently commenced the publication of a valuable Agricultural work, called the

"Farmer's Guide to Scientific and Practical Agriculture,"

By Henry Stephens, F. R. S., of Edinburgh, author of the "Book of the Farm," etc, etc; assisted by Jno. P Norton, M A., New Haven, Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, etc.

This highly valuable work will comprise two large royal octavo volumes, containing over 1400 pages, with 18 or 20 splendid steel engravings, and more than 600 engravings on wood, in the highest style of the art, illustrating almost every implement of husbandry now in use by the best farmers, the best methods of ploughing, planting, haying, harvesting, &c, the various domestic animals in their highest perfection; in short, the pictorial feature of the book is unique, and will render it of incalculable value to the student of agriculture.

The work is being published in semi-monthly numbers, of 64 pages each, exclusive of the steel engravings, and is sold at 25 cents each, or $5 for the entire work in numbers, of which there will be at least twenty-two.

The British Periodicals re-published are as follows, viz:
LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW, (Conservative,)
EDINBURGH REVIEW, (Whig,)
NORTH BRITISH REVIEW, (Free Church,)
WESTMINSTER REVIEW, (Liberal,) and BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory)

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," [both by Bulwer,] "My Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Scott & Co., so that subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

GREAT ARRIVAL OF WINTER GOODS!
101 East Water st., Martin's New Block.
EXTRAORDINARY AND DAILY INCREASING ATTRACTIONS AT CAMERON'S
NEW-YORK STORE.
Established in Milwaukee in May, 1849,

IN connection with one of the most extensive Importing Houses in New York city, for the purpose of establishing a large and permanent business, on the Cash system.

The proprietors of this already well known and popular establishment take this way of informing numerous patrons, in town and country, that they have made such arrangements to meet the exigencies of their rapidly increasing business, as will enable them to offer still greater inducements to purchasers. Their Fall and Winter stock is beyond comparison the most extensive and varied embracing every article usually found in first class houses in the Atlantic cities.

In the Western Country,

To those who have already dealt with them, they deem it unnecessary to allude to their ability and determination to undersell any other House west of New York city. To those who have not yet examined

THEIR STOCK OR PRICES,

they would say, through their connection in New-York, and an almost unlimited business, they are enabled to keep a resident buyer of great experience in New York and Boston markets, and many other goods are imported direct for their own trade in the original packages, thus securing many

New and Choice Styles of Goods, that cannot be found at any other establishment here. Their arrangements are so complete that they can, and pledge themselves that they will sell every piece and style of goods as low as they can be bought in the most celebrated cheap stores in New York or Boston. Every piece and style of goods in this establishment, being bought of first hands or at auction, or imported direct, and consequently from

25 to 30 PER CENT. LESS than Western Merchants pay for them—in fact we sell many styles of goods for less than western merchants pay for them in New York or Boston. Every article will be marked at the very lowest price, and will be guaranteed less in every instance than a similar article can be bought elsewhere.

We annex the following list of prices—which we think can hardly fail to convince the public—that this is not one of the humbug pretensions of the day.

☞ Bliss' Compound Cod Liver Oil Candy.—The Codfish has furnished our yeomen with a wide field of labor, and the tastes of our people with a delicious article of food for many years, but it is only until a recent period it has been found, that the oil extracted from the liver of the fish could be used as an article of the materia medica. Since its introduction it has wrought the most wonderful changes in the features of the affections of the throat and lungs. The virtues of Cod Liver Oil are acknowledged the world over, and all these virtues are found combined in Bliss's Candy, which stands unrivalled as a remedy for Coughs, &c. Beware of counterfeits

LIFE ASSURANCE.
☞ Ætna Insurance Company, HARTFORD, Conn.—ANNUITY FUND, $150,000.
—This well known and long established Company, having organized a new department for LIFE INSURANCE, with an entirely distinct capital, exclusively pledged with its reserved accumulations, for the payment of losses upon Life Insurance only, and in no event liable for the other debts, contracts, or engagements of the Company, is now prepared to issue Policies on Lives, at rates materially reduced from those charged by the Mutual Companies. The leading idea of the system adopted by this Company, is, to ascertain precisely what it is worth to insure a given amount upon a life for a certain time, and to charge precisely that sum, and no more: it is attended with none of those vexatious contingencies which are inseparable from the mutual system—it has nothing to do with scrip dividends or bonuses, the declaration of which upon true and equitable principles, is attended with so much difficulty and perplexity—it is perfectly simple, as well as uniform and equal in all its operations.

The promptness, fairness and liberality which have marked all the dealings of this Company, for a period of thirty years, and the well known character of its officers and directors, afford the surest guaranty that its affairs will be so managed as to afford to the assured that ultimate safety and security which is of first importance in Life Assurance.

Policies will be granted payable after death, or upon the party's arriving at a specified age, at his option; in either case, free from the claims of creditors. The usual extra risks will be assumed by this Company at reasonable rates.

Pamphlets containing Rates of Premium, and information in relation to the plan of operations, and all necessary papers to effect insurance, may be obtained at the Agency of this Company.

TO THE LADIES.
DYER'S WASHING, BLEACHING AND CLEANSING FLUID!
The greatest labor-saving article yet discovered

BY its use, washing machines and boards and hard rubbing, are entirely dispensed with, and not one quarter of the labor is required to do the washing of a family. The Fluid is a chemical compound of sufficient strength to extract all foreign substances from the cloth, by simply boiling a small quantity of it with the clothes, and without the slightest injury to the most delicate fabric.

The expense is not more than that of the soap ordinarily used, and besides this it will be seen that the great wear and tear of clothing consequent upon the old method of hard rubbing upon a board, and the use of the pounding barrel, is wholly dispensed with, and an immense saving is thus made. It is emphatically the female's friend
